Aims and Values

At Deptford Park we believe learning should be fun and that you never grow too old for new learning. We are committed to preparing our young people for life and the challenges they may meet. We are an inclusive school and believe that all children in our community should have access to learning at our school irrespective of ability.

We want:

High Standards for all because every child matters.

A rich and broad curriculum, which includes opportunities for all children to learn and achieve.

Opportunities for spiritual, moral social and cultural development.

To prepare children for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of life.

To work in partnership with parents to raise achievement.

To make our school an interesting and stimulating place to learn and visit.

Take active steps to combat disadvantage and aim to provide equal opportunities for excellence.

To make our school a safe place for everyone.

To welcome and respect people from all races and groups.

To help everybody feel that they have a contribution to make to the life of the school.

To help all children see that they can be successful.

We will expect the best of all children.

If we care about the children, we must care about high standards for all. We are committed to learning and continually improving and developing our school

Core Values

Background information

Dear Candidate,

Thank you for your interest in our school. All visitors describe the school as a ‘special’ place and I have to agree with them that there is just something about the school that sets it apart as an exciting place of learning.

Judged to be “Good” in our last two Ofsted inspections, our school aims for high academic standards for all, but at the same time embodies the broadest possible definition of education. It is open, welcoming and inclusive towards parents, children and the community.

Deptford Park is a larger than average school in the Evelyn ward within Lewisham. The school draws most of its pupils from the immediate area, which is one of high socio-economic disadvantage. We believe in education as a force for social justice and our context is not used as an excuse for under-attainment. Our children are hungry to learn and parental expectation is high. Our commitment is to providing our children with a good education and the basic skills so they can make genuine life choices and escape from a cycle of poverty. At this school every child does matter and we do all we can to make a difference.

The current roll is 384 infant and junior children. Our intake is up to 90 children but currently, due to surplus of pupil places in our area, we have 2 forms of entry from Reception to Y4 and 3 forms in Y5 & Y6.

Our children love to show off our school, please come and meet us and see our fantastic site and facilities. We have good arts facilities which include a sprung dance hall, dedicated art classroom, and a professional performance space.

Continued...

The school's focus is firmly fixed on learning; children's, teachers', support staff and the school's capacity for learning. We have found that this leads to improvements in children's motivation, behaviour, engagement in learning and learning outcomes.

We have a strong CPD ethos, which is delivered through weekly staff meetings and whole school Insets as well as through external providers and Peer Mentoring. There are also opportunities to share your skills and strengths across a consortium of local schools who share ideas and skills to promote excellence.

Our staff team are extremely committed and hard-working, together with our children they are our greatest asset. Collegiality is a strong feature of the school and there is a heart-felt belief that our success is collectively achieved. We have a very skilled and experienced support staff team.

The children are vibrant, purposeful and enjoy coming to school. They expect their learning to be fun. I do hope that you will want to join our community of learners and play a role in shaping the school as it continues to grow. Much has been achieved, but there is more to be done. We need dynamic and creative teachers, who see themselves as learners, who are resourceful, resilient and not afraid to take risks. Teachers who can bring learning to life as an active process that children want to be part of.

Our bespoke curriculum has been designed by our staff and Governors to excite and challenge our children and is constantly reviewed to ensure it is relevant to our children.

If you enjoy working with children and have a passion for learning you could be part of our team of learners here at Deptford Park.

We look forward to receiving your application.

Regards,

Lewisham Equal Opportunities Policy Statement

Lewisham Council is committed to equal opportunities both in the provision of services and as an employer. The seriousness of this commitment is reflected in the Council adopting equal opportunities as one of its core values.

EQUALITY of opportunity for all sections of our community and workforce is an essential value for this Council. This means recognising the inequalities that people suffer and take action to reduce them. Everyone has a role to play in ensuring fairness towards colleagues and the community.

This commitment is integral to the provision of any service and the employment conditions of each and every member of staff. We expect all our staff to promote equality in the workplace and in the services we deliver. In this way, the Council can redress inequality.

Equal opportunities means access to jobs, services, information and participation for everyone. We recognise that because some groups of people experience prejudice and discrimination that to make opportunities really available we have to make an extra effort. We mention some groups in particular because they are the people who have commonly been disadvantaged. The Council's commitment to a fair deal for women, black people, lesbians and gay men, pensioners and disabled people is a recognition of the difficulties and inequalities that these groups continue to face. The Council is committed to tackling class disadvantage and has a long history of providing services that improve the quality of life and life chances of working class people.

Lewisham Council exists to represent and provide services for all people of the Borough.

Our equal opportunities policy requires that the Council recognises and respects cultural and religious diversity and serves all sections of our local communities. Everyone should know what is available from the Council. Access to services will be based on need or entitlement. The Council will be open in its approach and make sure that we find out and take account of the views and experiences of our diverse community. The varied needs, expectations and culture of local people will be reflected in the range, sensitivity and relevance of our services.

In the context of pressures on resources and change, achieving equality assumes an even greater importance and requires even greater commitment. The Council is proud of progress made so far, is committed to protecting gains made and to developing new and innovative ways of promoting and achieving equality of opportunity and outcomes.

What does our policy cover?

COUNCIL'S FACILITIES AND SERVICES

Friendly, responsive and accessible services

Services need to be welcoming to all and able to understand and respond to a variety of needs and requirements. This means being prepared to adapt and change what we provide. For example, by providing multi-cultural meals for pensioners and in our schools; a multi-racial Under Fives service, catering for children with disabilities and special needs; a refuse collection that in general offers a kerb side collection but that provides doorstep service for disabled people or pensioners requiring it; leisure facilities for working-class teenagers.

Service based on need

To make sure we have got it right, we need to know what the needs or requirements of the different groups are. This means knowing about population trends and the numbers of the relevant groups for our services. It also means knowing the composition of the different age group by gender, race and disability and knowing the numbers of lesbians and gay men in our communities. It is vital to know the make up of the relevant target population so we can assess whether services are reaching all sections. This includes knowing about income levels in the Borough so that those most in need are receiving vital services and benefits.

Services for all

Our equal opportunities policies in employment are designed to lead to better services that are sensitive to the variety of needs and requirements in our local communities. We aim to give fair access to our services to everyone and this may mean making some special or separate provision. For example, we offer women-only leisure activities with some activities for black women in particular and leisure sessions for disabled people; we fund leisure groups and events for gay men and provide a day centre for black and ethnic minority pensioners; we provide 'second chance' education opportunities for working-class students. We also encourage all sections of the community to use the Council's facilities and services.

Consulting local people

We need to make sure that we know people's views and experiences of our services. This requires us to check that the groups we talk to regularly, such as tenants associations, are representative of a cross-section of local people. It also means making special or separate arrangements to consult various groups, perhaps using a range of methods, not just our traditional meeting format. This is in recognition of the fact that some of the established groups do not represent the different sections of the community. It is also a recognition that public meetings may provide access for the articulate middle class and disadvantage working-class people.

Knowing who is using our services

Our policy framework also includes monitoring take up of services so we can check that target groups have access and that use of Council services is in line with what we know about needs among different groups. Monitoring is not an end in itself but a means of checking how effective we are being and of then changing, adapting or targeting services.

Targeting resources

In a climate of declining resources, there will be difficult decisions to be made about resource allocation. Equal opportunities require us to make choices that reflect current needs rather than traditional ways of apportioning services. This means reviewing use to see that it is in line with needs and not simply continuing to deliver a service to the same group of people in the same way.

Information for everyone

Information about services is a crucial element of an equal opportunities framework. If it is not made available in an understandable form to all sections, then access to service is in practice restricted to those people "in the know". Information should be widely circulated, available in different forms and languages and encourage all groups to used the service. It also needs to make clear to everyone what determines access to services. Clear information about entitlement and about service standards is also important.

Representation

The Council is not just a provider of services, it is also a local government designed to give people a say in how their local area is run. All sections of our local community need to be able to identify with the Council and feel that they will be listened to. They also need to feel that they are represented in the decision-making process and have some influence on the policy makers. Our approach to co-options is a way of giving disadvantaged groups additional representation at committee level. Our approach to consultation is also part of giving local people greater influence.

EMPLOYMENT

In a service organisation like ours, the workforce is at the heart of our commitment to service quality and equality of opportunity. The people who manage and provide the Council's services should reflect the diversity of our local communities. This will help us to respond sensitively and effectively to a variety of needs and preferences.

To achieve high quality services, we will do all we can to develop a committed and highly motivated workforce. This will involve excellent communications throughout our organisation; training and development for staff at all levels; and management leadership that sets clear goals and encourages participation. In recognition of the high standards we demand from our employees, the Council is committed to good employment practices including responsiveness, innovative and flexible working arrangements.

Every manager of a service has a responsibility to ensure that their service area reflects and develops the Council's equal opportunities policies. All targets and quality standards will take into account this policy statement.

Fair recruitment

We need to show our commitment to equal opportunities in practice. This means fair selection that recruits people according to their ability to do the job and leads to a workforce that has a good cross section of people and reflects the makeup of our local communities.

Positive action to equalise chances

We know that everyone in our society does not have an equal chance, and equal opportunities means taking steps to make up for this inequality. This can take the form of positive action, such as training, to give disadvantaged groups the knowledge and skills needed to be able to take up job opportunities. It also means removing unnecessary educational requirements that disadvantage many people. This is particularly important to make sure that all jobs are open to all at every level and in every type of work in the Council.

A welcoming and comfortable workplace

Making all employees feel welcome and creating a safe environment is also part of equal opportunities. This is why we have a policy and procedure to deal with harassment, whether based on race, gender, sexuality or disability. We want all employees to know that everyone has the right to respect and that we will not tolerate behaviour that threatens groups or individuals.

Flexible work

We recognise that flexible work and career breaks and childcare support are important for equal opportunities. This is why we have maternity and nominated support leave, adoption and dependants' leave. It is why we have job share and want to develop new policies for flexible work patterns and child care initiatives such as our workplace crèche and childcare allowances. We recognise that women are more likely to bear the caring responsibilities and that equal opportunities will only be a reality if there is this kind of support. It is also a way of encouraging men to share responsibility for family care.

Valuing ALL employees

Showing that we value all staff, providing everyone with what they need to do a good job, creating opportunities to develop new skills and progress within the Council, are all important ways of demonstrating equal opportunities in practice. Our policies are designed to set a framework for managers to do this.

Council policy on the recruitment of ex-offenders

1. Background

Lewisham Council is committed to the fair treatment of its staff, potential staff or users of its services, regardless of race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, age, disability or offending background.

We actively promote equality of opportunity for all with the right mix of talent, skills and potential and welcome applications from a wide range of candidates, including those with criminal records. We select all candidates for interview based on their skills, qualifications and experience against the job requirements

As an organisation using the Criminal Records Bureau (CRB) Disclosure service to assess applicants' suitability for positions of trust, the London Borough of Lewisham complies fully with the CRB Code of Practice and undertakes to treat all applicants for positions fairly. It undertakes not to discriminate unfairly against any person who is the subject of a Disclosure on the basis of conviction or other information revealed.

Process

A Disclosure is only requested after a thorough risk assessment has indicated that one is both proportionate and relevant to the position concerned. For those positions where a Disclosure is required, all recruitment packs will contain a statement that a Disclosure will be requested in the event of the individual being offered the position

Where a Disclosure is to form part of the recruitment process, successful applicants will be required to complete a CRB form and provide evidence of identity to the satisfaction of the Council.

Access to disclosure of criminal convictions will be restricted to those officers nominated for this purpose. Having a criminal record will not necessarily bar you from working with us. This will depend on the nature of the position and the circumstances and background of any offences. In reaching decisions about suitability for appointment, the following will be taken into consideration:

- Whether the conviction or other matter revealed is relevant to the position in question
- The seriousness of any offence or other matter revealed
- The length of time since the offence or other matter occurred
- Whether the application has a pattern of offending behaviour or other relevant matters
- Whether the applicant's circumstances have changed since the offending behaviour or the other relevant matters, and
- The circumstances surrounding the offence and the explanation(s) offered by the convicted person

We undertake to discuss any matter revealed in a Disclosure with the person seeking the position before withdrawing a conditional offer of employment.

Information contained in Disclosures will not be shared with any other person(s) or bodies other than those provided for under the CRB Code of Practice.
