Dear Parents and Guardians

I have been made aware of concern about recent information of suspicious behaviour involving men in vans approaching children with a view to abducting them. Therefore I am giving you this information with a view to settle your concerns.

There have been reports in the last month regarding men in vans approaching children. Our intelligence analysts have reviewed these reports and we believe these incidents were not linked.

The incidents are being investigated fully and the victims are safe and well.

We would always support reminders of stranger danger with your children and all remaining vigilant but there is no reason for specific concern at this time. If you witness something suspicious please use 999 immediately.

Kind regards

Sergeant Geoff Warren
